Website Project Proposal: Radiance Hair Studio

1. Organisation Overview

- Name: Radiance Hair Studio
- History: Founded in 2021 in Sandton, Johannesburg, Radiance Hair Studio grew from a single-chair studio into a six-stylist salon offering cutting, colouring, and natural hair care.
- Mission: To help every client look and feel confident and represented through creative, personalised styling in a welcoming, inclusive space that celebrates individuality.
- Vision: To become Gauteng's go-to boutique studio for bold, camera-ready self-expression, recognised for quality, creativity, and community.
- Target audience: Gen Z clients aged 18-27 in greater Johannesburg who are digitally native, style-conscious, and drawn to brands with authentic social media presence, instant booking and shareable, photo-ready results (Sorbet, 2026).

2. Website Goals and Objectives

- Goals: drive online bookings, spotlight stylist work through short-form video and photo content, grow visibility on Instagram and TikTok, and boost footfall from a younger, trend-driven client base.
- KPIs: 40% increase in online bookings within six months; 35% growth in social-media-driven website traffic; average session over two minutes; 20% visit-to-booking conversion rate.

3. Current Website Analysis

- The salon currently relies only on a Facebook page with over 3,000 followers, but has no dedicated website, meaning mobile-first Gen Z clients cannot browse services, check pricing or book instantly (Pinterest, 2026a).
- Weaknesses: no online booking, no service or pricing information, poor mobile experience, and low visibility on the search and social channels Gen Z uses to discover salons.

- Improvement areas: a dedicated, mobile-first site with integrated booking and stronger SEO.

4. Proposed Website Features and Functionality

- Home page with hero banner and promotions
- About Us page detailing history, mission and team
- Services and pricing page
- Online booking and appointment system
- Scrollable stylist portfolio and gallery with embedded reels
- Contact page with map, client reviews and an embedded Instagram feed
- Blog for hair-care tips and promotions

5. Design and User Experience

- Colour Scheme: rose gold, charcoal and cream, chosen for an elegant, warm feel (see palette below).
- Typography: Montserrat for headings and Lora for body text, giving clear visual hierarchy and easy readability.
- Layout and Design: a clean, image-led, minimalist grid with prominent calls to action.
- UX considerations: intuitive navigation, mobile-first responsiveness, fast load times, thumb-friendly calls to action, and accessible colour contrast, suited to Gen Z's fast, visual-first browsing habits (Pinterest, 2026b).
- A low-fidelity wireframe will be developed to visualise the homepage layout: header and navigation, hero image, services preview, testimonials, and footer.

Proposed colour palette:

Rose Gold #B76E79	Charcoal #2E2620	Cream #FDF6F0

6. Technical Requirements

- Hosting: a local South African hosting provider for fast, reliable local load times.
- Domain name: www.radiancehairstudio.co.za

- Languages and frameworks: HTML5, CSS3 and JavaScript, built on a WordPress CMS with a booking plugin for easy self-service updates.

7. Timeline and Milestones

- Weeks 1-2: Research and planning
- Weeks 3-4: Wireframing and visual design
- Weeks 5-6: Development and content population
- Week 7: Testing and quality assurance
- Week 8: Launch and post-launch review

8. Budget

- Domain and hosting: R1,500 per year
- Website design and development: R12,000 once-off
- Booking system plugin: R2,000 per year
- Ongoing maintenance: R800 per month
- Estimated first-year total: approximately R25,100
